Test Document for Document Intelligence

This is a test document for testing the document intelligence service.

The document intelligence service should be able to extract text from this PDF.

This is a simple test to verify the basic functionality of the service.

The service should be able to detect English language and extract the content.